

The 90-2 form on the web page is an update of the 90-2 form originally used by Programs to submit their 2014 omnibus projects. We are up to mod 5.4K. It's called the 90-2 "Long Form", because a smaller version of the template (the "Short Form") has been added. The Short Form is designed to accept information about a single project, or at most two projects, while the Long Form continues to be able to accept information on up to 50 projects.

The current Long Form includes a Validation tab that checks for common filling errors in the 90-2s, and displays them in color. The form also now has the ability to jump from the Table of Contents tab to a specific 90-2 tab by clicking on the project number, PI or title of that project in the table of contents (blue text).

Each 90-2 tab now has a link to jump directly to the Table of Contents. Each 90-2 tab also now has a checkbox next to the project title, where you can record if that project was selected competitively. The checkbox is initially checked for Research projects, unchecked for other types of projects.
